HERO's lightweight, compact design makes it the perfect file for your home or small office.

Smaller. Lighter. Better.

The first thing you'll notice about HERO is its size. For a fire-protective file, it is small. But then you'll notice the fine craftsmanship and see that storage capacity has obviously not been sacrificed. And that's when you'll know HERO is perfect for use in your home or small office.

It all starts inside where Schwab uses Insulite™, a chemically dry insulation. Insulite maintains its fire-protective capabilities for a lifetime and is extremely efficient; meaning less insulation is required to obtain UL Class 350-1 Hr. protection. So you get the benefits of UL Classified protection without the rust, musty odor, weight and bulky size resulting from "baked" or cured insulation.

Solid Contemporary Construction

HERO has recessed handles and a polished finish giving it a contemporary look that easily complements any home or office décor. Underneath this beautiful exterior, though, is a seamless steel body. Without seams, HERO protects its contents against fire and forced entry much more effectively than "cap-and-sleeve" designs.

In addition, HERO's drawers are completely insulated making each one independently fire resistant. An inner steel jacket prevents entry into a locked drawer from an unlocked compartment. It also keeps all insulation out of your files.

Flexible Storage

HERO stores up to 15" of letter-sized or 12" of legal-sized files in each drawer. Plus, you can diversify storage capabilities with a Schwab Media COOLER. When placed in a HERO file drawer, the Media COOLER offers protection required for sensitive computer media.
